English in Child Education II	26523	spring	KIDE	Since the main objective of this subject is that the students improve their communicative competence, especially oral, in the foreign language, together with the reflection on their own learning, we suggest learning outcomes centered in the comprehension and production skills in written and oral English and also, the description and evaluation of the daily practice inside the classroom. All these outcomes will be evaluated as part of the subject.
English in Infant Education III	26569	autumn	KIDE	The principal aim of this module is for the students to improve their knowledge of English grammar and their communicative competence in the language, as well as their language learning strategies. The students' reading and writing skills are expected to expand from B2 to B2+ or C1 level, with special emphasis on the development of academic culture, while their oral skills will be aimed at consolidating B2. In addition, and in line with English in infant education I and English in infant education II, this module will also cover a range of professional aspects relevant to the pre-service training of future nursery EFL teachers, more specifically in connection with bilingual programmes. Learning and teaching EFL	26560	autumn	KIDE	The objective of this subject is for students: a) to learn the theoretical foundations of the teaching and learning of English as a foreign and second language; b) to reflect upon the implications which these theories have for the context of the Pre-Primary Education classroom; and c) to prepare future teachers to use teaching strategies effectively.
Resources for EFL in infant school	26563	autumn	KIDE	The programme will be structured around the different areas within the curriculum of Infant Education so that the students may be able to develop the necessary competences to foster a communicative and globalised learning of the foreign language (English) as well as the different curricular areas in this educative stage. The development of the activities will follow the general principles that rule the communicative and bilingual approach, which will be revised in the first part of the syllabus. In the same way, the activities related to the diverse curricular areas will respect and exemplify the totalising and globalising principles that lie behind the curriculum of Infant Education.
